

Invited Lecture:
Yet Another Layer: Mongolian Judicial System under the Qing Colonial Legal Order

Erdenchuluu Khohchahar
Kyoto University Hakubi Center

April 13
4:00-5:30 pm
Global and International Studies Building
Room# 1122

Erdenchuluu Khohchahar is an Assistant Professor at the Kyoto University Hakubi Center, and currently Visiting Scholar at the Harvard-Yenching Institute and Visiting Assistant Professor at the Harvard Dpt. of East Asian Languages and Civilizations. He received his LL.B. from Inner Mongolia University (2002), his Env.Sc.M. from Aomori University (2005), and his LL.M. and LL.D. from Kyoto University (2010 and 2013). He also studied cultural and legal anthropology as a Ph.D. candidate at Hokkaido University (2005 to 2007). His research interests include Mongolian legal history, comparative legal history, socio-legal studies, law and society in modern Inner and East Asia, and multidisciplinary research methodologies. He is currently working on a book project on Mongolian judicial system during the Qing dynasty.

Hosted by the Department of Central Eurasian Studies